

The Partnership to End Homelessness: Making a Happy Thanksgiving by Giving Out Turkeys to Those in Need!

On November 24, AmeriCorps members from the Partnership to End Homelessness handed out turkeys and groceries to more than 160 clients of the Servant Center food pantry during a special 3 hour blitz give-away. Without this intervention, these families would not have had food for Thanksgiving. Clients were sent post-cards to bring with them that guaranteed them a turkey with fixings suitable for their family size. Clients showed up happily waving their cards and members greeted them with a cheerful "Happy Thanksgiving!" and loaded up their cars with a hard-as-a-rock frozen turkey and grocery bags that they had assembled the day before.

With the worsening economy, more people than ever have found themselves short on cash and short on food. The pantry has seen an increase in the number of people being referred to them for food assistance. We are very grateful to Holy Trinity Episcopal Church who donated these Thanksgiving turkeys and groceries specifically for this give-away. As a result, more than 200 needy families will have a Thanksgiving to be thankful for.
